Household Pulse Survey User Notes

Phase 4.0 & 4.1: Missing Rates for Gender Identity and Sexual Orientation Questions

Date: June 13, 2024

Data users are advised that the gender identity (Question D7) and sexual orientation (Question D9) questions were administered as part of a split-panel test during Phase 4.0 (Cycles 1-3) and cycles 4 and 5 of Phase 4.1. As a result, these questions were presented to a subset of respondents during this period; only half of the respondents in cycles 1-5 received the gender identity and sexual orientation questions. Data users can expect to see higher levels of missingness for these two questions in the impacted cycles. The Census Bureau recently turned off the experiment so the level of item missingness should decrease starting in Cycle 6 of Phase 4.1. The Census Bureau plans to analyze any impacts of presence or absence of the gender identity in the series. We will look at item missingness, response distributions, and any breakoffs in either condition. We apologize for any inconvenience.

Phase 4.1

Date: May 16, 2024

Release Note on Phase 4.1 Collection of the Household Pulse Survey

Phase 4.1 will continue to use the cycle-based approach for data collection and dissemination introduced with the start of Phase 4.0. Phase 4.1 is currently scheduled to collect data from April 2 to July 22, 2024. This phase is structured around four distinct collection cycles, each followed by a scheduled data release:

Cycle 4: Data collection from April 2 to April 29, 2024, with data release on May 16, 2024.

Cycle 5: Data collection from April 30 to May 27, 2024, with data release on June 13, 2024.

Cycle 6: Data collection from May 28 to June 24, 2024, with data release on July 11, 2024.

Cycle 7: Data collection from June 25 to July 22, 2024, with data release on August 8, 2024.

Users can access the Phase 4.1 questionnaire on the main Household Pulse Survey website, and all previous questionnaires from the survey are available on the Technical Documentation webpage.

In response to the changes in content for Phase 4.1, modifications have been made to the Household Pulse Survey data products. These include the interactive data tool and the detailed table package, which have been updated to reflect the new and revised content.
